

Dear Industry Supplier,

Sales teams are facing travel restrictions, cancelled appointments, cancelled presentations, limited buying and postponed or cancelled tradeshows. So how do gaming suppliers like you stay in front of qualified, interested customers and prospects?

You need to let them know you are ready to help them make or save money, ready to provide products, ready to continue or expand your services ... so keep reading.

We've had enormous response to our updated digital campaigns through Tribal Gaming & Hospitality Magazine including our new On Air interviews. View Interviews Here Our subscribers "click to open" our digital materials more than any other because we have been a trusted gaming industry resource for over 20 years, including conferences and tradeshows.

Here are quality digital marketing options (many that provide you "click through" lists) that are affordable and customizable to keep you in front of, and connected to, our industry. Recorded interviews, sales messages, educational articles, sponsorships and advertorials. There's no other company that has the reach of both Raving and our media outlet, Tribal Gaming & Hospitality Magazine.

We have over two decades of direct marketing experience:
tap into our skills and our 7000 targeted subscribers.
